PREFACE

This work, begun in 1884, more than a quarter of a century ago, is now laid before our people with the hope of their appreciation. Only those who have engaged in this kind of work will ever comprehend the labor, numerous, vexatious, and unavoidable delays attending it. From its nature, it is impossible to bring the record of every family down to date; but each should be continued on the blank pages in the back of this volume, for such records are every day becoming more and more valuable. There are no doubt errors in the work not found in the additions and corrections. Many marriages recorded at Holy Trinity (Old Swedes) Church, Wilmington, Delaware, did not take place there. Delaware County, Pa., was a part of Chester County, Pa., until September 26th, 1789. The kindness of all who have in any way contributed hereto is acknowledged. Thanks are kindly extended to Miss Anne H. Cresson, of Germantown, Pa., of long experience at the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, for assistance. Acknowledgment is also made for data obtained from the Genealogies of the Sharpless Family, Smedley Family, and Dutton Family, by Gilbert Cope; the Jackson Family, by Halliday Jackson; the Palmer Family, by Lewis Palmer; the Baldwin Family, by C. C. Baldwin; Henry Hayes' Bi-Centennial, 1705-1905, by Stephen C. Harry, Thos. H. Windle, and J. Carroll Hayes; History of the Ninety-Seventh Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, by Isaiah Price; History of Chester, Delaware County, Pa., by John Hill Martin; Records of Holy Trinity (Old Swedes) Church, by Horace Burr; West Chester, Past and Present, by Daily Local News, of West Chester, Pa.; and especially for the copious extracts taken from the History of Chester County, Pennsylvania, with Genealogical and Biographical Sketches, by J. Smith Futhey and Gilbert Cope.

OF THE

Descendants of John Hannum

John Hannum, by deed of 1.1.1686, purchased of Jeremiah Collett, of Chichester, County of Chester, and Province of Pennsylvania, two hundred acres of land, situate in Concord township, in said county, but since the division thereof, dating September 26″ 1789, in what is now called Delaware county, adjoining lands of Nathan Park, Gideon Walters (Godwin Walter), and George Stroud (George Strode), the consideration being four pounds.

This is the earliest positive information of John Hannum which has been obtained after diligent search. There were two or three families located in early times in southeastern Pennsylvania and the northern part of Delaware with surnames of very similar spelling, and with often the same Christian names.

Careless or ignorant spelling in the records from which data have been gathered has made it very difficult in some cases to determine to which family reference was made, and it is more than likely that some information concerning John Hannum has for this reason been discarded. The same is also true of some of the spelling contained in the recent records sent us.

In a few instances a marked change will be noticed in the spelling of family names.

Sometimes it will appear as if the children of a family all born at the same place, were born at different places, for instance, where a county, township, or district was divided before the younger children were born, and the home was found to be in the part taking the new name, and no notice being given of the division.

On October 25″ 1687, there was laid out across the land of John Hannum and others a "forty foote road from Concord to ye King's Highway in Chester."

John Hannum, by deed of 4mo.1.1688, sold to John Wirkham one hundred acres of land in Concord aforesaid next to land of Godwin Walter.

About 1702, he gave a lot of about one acre of land at or near the northwest corner of his tract purchased of Collett, and near his home, on which to erect a church. Services were no doubt held in the neighborhood, but nothing definite can be learned as to when the first church building was erected on this lot, which was surveyed by Isaac Taylor, the noted surveyor of Chester County, on September 25″ 1724. The present church building was erected in 1844; the one preceding it contained what was known as the Hannum pew in recognition of John Hannum's gift of the lot, and there still survives at least one of the family who in childhood frequently occupied it; it was near the middle of the church building.

This building was destroyed by fire; the early records of the church were also lost or destroyed, and the right to the family pew is no longer recognized, in the present church. This is called St. John's Episcopal Church, Concord. John Hannum, by deed dated the 2 and 20″ day of the 8″ month called October, 1705, purchased of Edward Jonnans one hundred acres of land in Concord aforesaid, which he had purchased of George Strode adjoining lands of John Palmer, Godwin Walter, Thomas Hall, and other land of John Hannum.

The original brick dwelling on the Hannum property was added to at both ends, and is still standing at the top of the hill a few yards beyond the church, on the left-hand side of the road leading to Chester, nine miles away.

At the August term of Court, 1722, John Hannum sought and obtained the privilige of keeping a house of entertainment to sell "Beer and Sider." His name appeared annually thereafter until omitted from the list in 1731, to be followed by his son John's application in 1747, whose name appeared annually thereafter until 1760. This house was for a time known as the "Buck," and was kept from 1785 to 1787 by William Hannum, and in 1788 ceased to be a public house. At a court of private sessions, held at the house of John Hannum in Concord, the 15″ day of December, 1724, action was taken concerning the safety of the public records from fire and other casualties.

John Hannum seems to have been a Friend or Quaker, for Morgan Edwards in giving an account of the Seventh-Day Baptists of Newtown, Nottingham, and French Creek, after referring to the division in the Society of Friends, caused by George Keith and his adherents, some of whom became convinced of the doctrines of the Baptists, says that the Society of Keithians most forward in these matters was that kept at the house of Thomas Powell, in Upper Providence, which forwardness, it is said, was owing to one Able Noble, who visited them, and was a Seventh-Day Baptist minister when he arrived in this country. The time they began to put their designs in practice was 4th month 28th, 1697, when the said

Abel Noble baptized a public Friend (whose name was Thomas Martin) in Ridley Creek. Afterwards Mr. Martin baptized other Quakers, viz.: John Hannum, Margery Hannum, Mary Palmer and others on 7th mo. 27th, 1697, also in Ridley Creek.

Able Noble is claimed to have been the first Seventh-Day Baptist in Pennsylvania, and to have arrived in 1684. His name is among the forty-eight who signed the reasons for the Keithian separation. That he signed this paper is evidence that he had been a Friend, to which may be added his marriage at Darby Meeting, in 1692, to Mary Garrett, a member thereof.

John Hannum and eighteen others, on October 12th, 1697, incorporated and proceeded to choose a minister by lot, which fell to Thomas Martin, who the same day administered to them the Lord's Supper for the first time. From that day forth other Keithian Quakers were baptized.

George Keith afterwards became an Episcopal minister, and many of his followers adopted the same faith; among them were John Hannum and his wife Margery.

The building of St. Paul's Church at Chester, Pa., was completed in July, 1702, and on Sunday, January 24th, 1703 (new style), St. Paul's day, the edifice was opened to public worship, Rev. John Talbot preaching the first sermon. Rev. George Keith preached there on February 7th and August 3rd, 1703, and afterwards. In an account of the building of the church (St. Paul's), furnished to the Society for the Propogation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, allustion was made by the writer to some of the "Parishers who were chief helpers to carry on the work," among whom were John Hannum, and Jeremy Collett, as Jeremiah Collett was often called. John Hannum was appointed vestryman on April 18th, 1704. Records are found of his reappointment on April 22nd, 1712, and again for the years 1715, 1716, 1718, 1719, 1720, and 1727. There is litttle doubt but that he served continuously between the first and last named dates, although it is said there was no meeting of the Parishioners between 1704 and 1712, perhaps only no records found, as between 1720 and 1727. John Hannum married Margery Southery, daughter of Robert Southery, a fuller by trade, late of Westbury, in the county of Wilts, England. Her sister, Mary Southery, married John Palmer, a neighbor, and closely associated with Mr. Hannum.

We can only surmise the order of the births of the children of John and Margery Hannum, and have adopted the following, which we believe to be in a measure correct.

It is probable that all the children were born in Concord.

*1. John Hannum, d. 1730; m. Margery Southery, prior to 7-27-1697; she died about 1742, and it is the prevailing belief in the family that they were both buried at St. John's Church, Concord. Children:

2. George, buried the 15th day of Feb., 1706-7, at St. Paul's Church, Chester, Pa.
3. George, an infant, baptized the 30th day of May, 1708, at St. Paul's Church, Chester, Pa.
*4. James, d. in the Fall of 1717, it is supposed unmarried.
5. Robert, d. 2-26-1759; m. Mary Hayes.
6. John, buried the 19th day of Dec., 1707, at St. Paul's Church, Chester, Pa.
*7. John, an infant, baptized the 27th day of March, 1712, at St. Paul's Church, Chester, Pa.; d. 3-25-1773; m. Mary Gibbons and Jane Neild.
8. Mary, m. Thomas Smith.
9. Elizabeth, m. Thomas Broom, of Concord, at St. Paul's Church, Chester, Pa., on the 4th day of Dec., 1711. Children: John, baptized June 14th, 1713, and Mary, baptized Sep. 12th, 1714, at St. Paul's.
10. Margery, m. Anthony Baldwin.
11. Sarah, infant, baptized 23d day of April, 1704, at St. Paul's Church, Chester, Pa.; m. Jacob Way.
12. Ann, b. 3-15-1705, baptized the 1st day of July, 1705, at St. Paul's Church, Chester, Pa.; d. 6-28-1800; m. John Way.

5. Robert Hannum, (John), d. 2-26-1759; m. Mary Hayes, d. 11-6-1749, at 3 o'clock in the morning; dau. of Henry and Rachel Hayes. By the will of his brother James, proven the 26th day of November, 1717, he obtained 200 acres of land in the township of Birmingham. He became a resident of Wilmington, Delaware, as early as 1731 or 1732, and perhaps died there. He was an Inn Holder. The first borough election for Wilmington was held September 8th, 1740, and annually thereafter. Robert Hannum was Chief Burgess for the year 1744, William Shipley and Joseph Way preceding him. He was also Assistant Burgess for the years 1740, '45, '46, '47, and again for 1752, '57.

We are told by one of our correspondents that Robert was first married to Hannah ———, but have been unable to confirm her statement, and have assigned all his children of whom we have any record to his wife Mary.

The oldest Bible it has been our privilege to examine was sent us by Hopkins Hannum, of Augusta Twp., Carroll Co., O. "Printed for Richard Ware, at the Bible House, London, MDCCXXII;" and again it is said, "Printed by John Basket 1723." When the first binding gave way the book was sent back to England to be rebound, which may account for the discrepancy in dates and names of printers. It came to Hopkins Hannum from his great-grandfather, James Hannum, the son of Robert and Mary, and was no doubt at one time their family Bible. It contains the records of the deaths of Robert and Mary, and the dates of the births of some of their children, a considerable portion of the page containing the records being torn off. The names of the first four children do not appear therein, but are found in deeds and other instruments of writing recorded at Wilmington and elsewhere. Children:

13. James, d. 2-4-1798; m. Ann Naucett.
14. Thomas, m. Sarah Bonsall.
*15. Elizabeth, d. 10-5-1802; m. Israel Gilpin.
*16. Hannah, m. John McKinney.
17. A daughter, record incomplete, A.D. 1742.
18. A daughter, record incomplete, born 7th of April, 1746.
19. John, b. Oct. 31st, at 7 o'clock at night, A.D. 1749.

*7. John Hannum, (John), d. 3-25-1773, in Concord Twp.; buried at Concord Friends' Burying Ground; m. 10-29-1731, at Concord Mtg., his second cousin, Mary Gibbons, b. 1709; dau. of James and Ann (Pearce) Gibbons, of Westtown Twp., Chester Co., Pa. There were no children by this marriage. He married again 8-8-1741, at Birmingham Meeting, Chester Co., Jane Neild; d. 11-14-1808, aged 88 years and 2 months; buried at Concord Friends' Burying Ground; dau. of John Neild and Elizabeth Ring, of Aston Twp., Delaware Co.

John Hannum was a farmer in Concord Twp. Children:

*20. Margery, d. 11-30-1814; m. Joseph Gibbons, Jr.
*21. John, b. 1740; d. 2-7-1799; m. Alice Parke.
22. Mary, m. Richard Cheyney.
23. William, b. 2-1-1748; d. 8-24-1816; m. Ruth Evans.
24. James, b. 1749; d. 9-28-1809; m. Jane Chandler. Mary ———. Sarah Edge.

8. Mary Hannum, (John), m. Thomas Smith, of Birmingham. He married a second wife, Elinor Gibson, and died in April, 1748, leaving the following children, some of whom may have been by his last wife:

25. John. 26. William. 27. Thomas. 28. James. 29. Isaac. 30. Sarah, m. —— Scott. 31. Margery, m. —— Bullock. 32. Elizabeth, m. Joseph Dutton. 33. Ann. 34. Mary. 35. Hannah.

10. Margery Hannum, (John), m. Anthony Baldwin, of Newlin Twp., Chester County, Pa., and was his second wife, he having married before 1712 Hannah, dau. of Wm. and Mary Coburn, of Chester. He was the son of Thomas Baldwin, said "to have settled, about 1697, on the southwest side of Chester Creek, above Chester Mills, but afterward removed to

*See Appendix.

Chester, where he died in 1731;" and "Mary, widow of Richard Linvill, of County Sussex, England." Anthony, in his will dated June 9th, 1753, and probated September 5th, 1760, mentions his eldest son, William, his second son, Joseph, and his daughter, Elizabeth, who were no doubt children by his first marriage, and his grandson, William Edwards. He also mentions his youngest children in the order given below, whom we have assigned to his second wife, Margery. She, in her will, dated August 22d, 1779, probated September 26th, 1782, however, mentions her daughter, Elizabeth Daugherty, no doubt the Elizabeth above mentioned, her step-daughter; she also names as her children those whom Anthony calls his youngest children, except George and Robert, whom she passes without notice. Children:

*36. Anthony, d. 1793 or 4; m. Elizabeth Davis.
37. George.
38. John, b. 5-3-1730; d. 2-27-1809; m. Ruth Way.
39. Thomas, m. Lydia Johnson.
40. Martha, m. —— Nichols.

No. 7. John Hannum, 2nd, was chief beneficiary under his father's Will obtaining the homestead said to contain 231 acres in Concord, where he spent the greater part of his life.

He became the owner of real estate in Wilmington, Delaware, Aug. 4″ 1737, and perhaps moved there about that time; he was living there in 1741, but returned to Concord a few years later, the exact date not determinable.

The following are extracts from his Will:

I John Hannum of Concord in the County of Chester in the Province of Pennsylvania &c.

Imprimis, just debts and funeral expenses to be paid.

Item, gives wife Jane £600—to be paid to her immediately after his death, or in bonds and mortgages as she may desire, certain furniture and privileges during widowhood, to be in lieu of dower.

Item, to Margery Gibbons, (she and her husband having already received £500—and upwards) the income of £300—during life, principal to go to her children at her death.

Item, to Mary Cheyney, (she and her husband having already received £150—and upwards) the income of £250—during life, principal to go to her children at her death.

Also, a certain tract purchased of Jonathan Vaughn & Company situate in Thornbury, containing 125 acres to be held by Executors for benefit of the said Mary Cheyney and her children.

Item, to John, tract of 400 acres in East Bradford, purchased of Jacob Taylor and Mary Empson, £100—, and other personalty.

Item, to William, "All this my Plantation and Tract of Land where I now dwell, together with the Land I Bought of John Riley and Joseph Nicklin, Containing in the whole about three hundred Acres, be the same more or Less, under and subject to the Privileges before devised to his mother during Widowhood," also £200—, and a large quantity of personal property.

Item, to James, "All that my Plantation and Tract of Land situate in West Marlborough Township in the County aforesaid, Containing about Two hundred acres more or less together with fifty acres of Woodland Adjoining Joseph Davis, Robert Kerr, and Rebort Burns, and also the Warrant Right of about fifty acres of Land Adjoining Robert Kerr and Vacant Land" also £150— and a large quantity of personal property.

Executors, John, William, and James; each to have £50— in lieu of commissions and expenses, and they are required and enjoined to make application to testator's true and trusty friends Henry Hale Graham and John Morton Esquires for their advice and assistance in settling the estate.

The rest, residue, and remainder of the estate is given to wife Jane, three sons, John, William, and James, and two daughters Margery and Mary to be equally divided between them part and share alike. In witness, &c., Sep. 30″ 1769.

Witnesses, Jno. Hannum (Seal)

Duly proven April 7″ 1773.

Inventory filed Aug. 10″, 1773 amounting to £4169, 16 S. 6 D.

Note. After making his will, John Hannum purchased land in Concord & Springfield Townships; and his widow and children being fully convinced that he intended to make some alterations in his will, entered into an agreement April 7″ 1773, which to some extent altered its terms, and is filed therewith at West Chester, Pa.

John Hannum became a member of the Society of Friends in early life. He and Mary Gibbons, also a Friend, passed meeting, declaring their intentions of marriage, for the first time, at a Monthly Meeting held at Concord 9″ mo. 1″ 1731; whereupon the usual committee was appointed to have the matter in charge, and John was requested to bring a paper expressing his mother's consent, to the next meeting.

They passed meeting a second time at Concord 10″ mo. 6″ 1731 with nothing to obstruct, "save that they are related that Degree of relation Commonly deemed Second Cousons, but parents and relations Consenting, this meeting after deliberate Consideration permits them to Consumat their marriage according to ye good order."

Their marriage was accomplished 10″ mo. 29″ 1731 at the meeting house in Concord, and moderate at the house of entertainment.

On 7″ mo. 3″ 1739, Concord Mo. Mtg, granted John Hannum a certificate to Newark Mo. Mtg, he having removed himself within the verge of that meeting by taking up his residence in Wilmington, Del., which certificate he produced 12mo. 2″ 1739 to Newark Mo. Mtg, held at Center Del.

Later, John then belonging to Newark Monthly Meeting and Jane Neild to Concord, passed meeting the first time at Concord 7″ mo. 7″ 1741, and again 8″ mo. 5″ 1741, and their marriage was accomplished orderly at the meeting house in Birmingham 8″ mo. 8″ 1741.

John produced a certificate from Newark Monthly Meeting to Concord which was accepted 2″ mo 4″ 1748, and he became a member, serving on a fair proportion of the meeting committees during the next few years.

The Governor of the Province appointed him one of the Justices of the Chester County Courts Feb. 23″ 1761, Nov. 19″ 1764, and again May 23″ 1770.

Concord Preparative Meeting, 2″ mo. 10″ 1763, complained to Concord Monthly Meeting against John for repeatedly administering oaths, and Samuel Osborn and John Brinton were appointed to pay him a visit, and report how they found him to the next meeting.

They reported 3″ mo. 10″ 1763 that they had an opportunity with him, and that he did not incline to make Friends satisfaction, nor desist from the practice for which he was complained of, whereupon John Brinton and Caleb Peirce, Jr., were appointed to prepare a testimony against him, acquaint him therewith, and return it to the next meeting.

A testimony against him was produced, approved and signed, and at a meeting held 4″ mo. 7″ 1763 a committee was appointed to read it to him, give him a copy if requested and acquaint him of his privilege of appealing, which if he did not incline to prosecute, get the same recorded, and return to the next meeting.

It seems from subsequent proceedings that he was favored by some delay to afford him full time to consider the matter, and as he did not appeal he was disowned as of 4″ mo. 7″ 1763.

The following obituary notice is from Pennsylvania Chronicle No. 324, Monday, March 29″ 1773, "On Thursday Morning last died very suddenly of an Apopletic Fit, in Concord Township, Chester County, John Hannum Esq., a worthy magistrate of that County."

No. 15. Joseph Gilpin, of Dorchester, in the county of Oxford, weaver, son of Thomas Gilpin, of Warborough, in the same county tallow-chandler, and Joan his wife, was married 12.20.1691, to Hannah, daughter of —— —— and Alice Glover, of the county of Southampton. They came to Pennsylvania in 1695, and settled on a tract of land in Birmingham township, in Chester (now Delaware) County, which had been given to his wife by an uncle as a marriage present. Their first dwelling was a cave on the side of a hill, such as was frequently used by the early settlers until better structures could be provided. Its exact site can yet (1880) be pointed out on the farm late the property of John D. Gilpin, about one mile south of Dilworthtown. Some years thereafter he erected a frame dwelling-house on the site of the present residence of Elias Baker, a short distance west of the cave-dwelling, to which he removed, and where he resided during the remainder of his life.

He died in the year 1739, at the age of seventy-five years, leaving to survive him fifteen children and forty-five grandchildren.

The names and births of his children were as follows:

1. Hannah, b. 12.15.1692; m. William Seal.
2. Samuel, b. 4.7.1694; m. Jane Parker.
3. Rachel, b. 12.12.1695; m. Joshua Peirce.

14. Mary, b. 11.16.1716; m. Philip Taylor.
15. Esther, b. 1.9.1718; m. Samuel Painter.

The ancestry of this family can be traced in a direct line to Richard De Guylpin, who in the year 1206, during the reign of King John, became the owner of the manor of Kentmere, which was bestowed upon him by the baron of Kendal for deeds of prowess, and, as the name indicates are of Norman extraction.

Thomas Gilpin (the son of Samuel) was born in the year 1728, on the property where his grandfather had settled. Soon after arriving at age he became the owner of property on the Brandywine, near to Wilmington, where he erected and established extensive mills. In 1752 he visited England for the purpose of obtaining information in regard to its trade with the colonies, which might be useful to him in his future business relations. In 1764 he married a daughter of Joshua Fisher, then a wealthy and leading Quaker merchant in Philadelphia, which led to his settlement in that city, and his engaging in business. He possessed a decided taste for scientific pursuits, and devoted much of his leisure to its cultivation. He was one of the original members of the American Philosophical Society, and was very active in investigations which might be useful to his fellow men. The information which he acquired he freely imparted by correspondence, in papers contributed to the Philosophical Society, and articles published in the journals of the day.

While thus devoting the quiet tenor of his life to his business pursuits, and to acquiring and imparting useful information, and (in acordance with his Quaker principles) taking no part in the struggle which was going on between the colonies and the mother-country, he was on Sep. 2, 1777, arrested at his place of business in Philadelphia, and placed in confinement, and subsequently exiled to Virginia, where he died March 2, 1778, just six months after his arrest. His constitution was not robust, and the hardships he suffered probably hastened his death.

He was a man of very superior mind, and possessed a character which should have shielded him from the unjust treatment which he received in his last days.

His high sense of justice is shown in the fact that the evening before his death, a rough draft of his will being brought to him, in which it was said that "he, with a number of others, had been unjustly banished," he desired the expression to be erased, as it would seem to cast a reflection on the persons who had caused it. He had three brothers, all of whom favored the Revolutionary cause, and two of whom were officers in the American army.

He left two sons, Joshua and Thomas Gilpin, both of whom rose to wealth and distinction. The sons of Joshua were Henry D. Gilpin, Esq., of Philadelphia, a prominent member of the bar; Thomas W. Gilpin, who was many years consul at Belfast; Richard A. Gilpin, formerly of Westtown township, Chester Co.; and Governor William Gilpin, of Colorado, who served in the army of the United States during the Florida and Mexican wars.

The farm in Birmingham where the emigrant ancestor settled remained in the Gilpin family until within a few years. That part of it on which the cave-dwelling was situated is now (1880) owned by Alban Harvey, and that part whereon he erected the frame dwelling by Elias Baker. In the year 1754 a brick building was erected adjoining the frame one, which was occupied by Gen. Howe as his headquarters while the British army remained in the neighborhood, after the battle of Brandywine, in September, 1777. It then belonging to George Gilpin. The brick building is still standing (1880) and from parts of the present residence of Elias Baker. The old frame erected by the emigrant was removed about the year 1835, and the present stone adition built on its site.

In tearing down the frame building, it was discovered that the outer walls had been filled, in its erection, with adobes, or sun-dried bricks.

No. 16. All we have learned of interest concerning Hannah Hannum and her husband, John McKinney, is contained in the following extract from a deed conveying her interest in the two hundred acres in Birmingham, which her father obtained by Will from his brother James, to wit:—

This Indenture ———— March 21st 1775, Between John McKinney of the Head of Sassafras River, in the County of Caecil, in the Province of Maryland Cooper and Hannah his wife (one of the Daughters of Robert Hannum deceased) of the one Part and Thomas Hannum of the Township of Birmingham, in the County of Chester and Province of Pennsylvania, yeoman, of the other part, Witnesseth, &c., Consideration Eighty-five Pounds lawful money of Pennsylvania.

No. 20. John Gibbons, the founder of one of the largest families of Chester County, was one of the earliest settlers under the proprietary. His name is found in Proud's "History of Pennsylvania," among the eminent persons of the Society of Friends, who settled near Chester in 1681. He migrated from Warminster, in Wiltshire, England, where his family resided, as appears by the church records, as early as the middle of the sixteenth century. He and his wife Margery were among the best educated members of the society, and appear to have been in very comfortable circumstances. His name is found on the Holmes map as an original purchaser of two tracts from the proprietary, one in Thornbury and one in Bethel. He occupied the latter as soon as his improvements were completed, and became one of the largest landowners of the county. He was one of the jurors empaneled for the trial of Margaret Mattson, on an indictment for witchcraft, which took place before Willliam Penn and his Council, at Philadelphia, in February, 1683-4. There is a tradition in the family that he framed the compromise verdict which prevented a disagreement of the jury.

They were hanging witches in old England and New England about that time, and the president of Harvard College was an active participant in that savage remedy for an imaginary crime. John and Margery both lost their membership in the Society of Friends. The latter became involved in the Keith controversy. She was a fearless and resolute woman, and in her public communications maintained the views of Keith, that the doctrines and discipline of the society were not sufficiently guarded against infidelity. For this she was disowned with many others. John survived his wife, and died on his Bethel plantation about the year 1721. They had two sons, John and James, the former of whom married Sarah Howard, of Philadelphia, and died in 1706, leaving three children. He was disowned in 1702 for taking side with his mother, for standing up at the close of a meeting and charging John Lea to be no gospel minister, and for keeping on his hat at the time of prayer.

In 1708, James married Ann, daughter of George Pearce, of Thornbury Twp., Chester Co., Pa., an elder of the society. They removed to Westtown Twp., in said county, and occupied the Westtown plantation, of 600 acres, which the father of James conveyed to him by deed of gift on his marriage. He was one of the representatives of Chester County in the General Assembly for three years, in 1717, '18, '19.

His wife was recommended as a minister, 3.3.1731. They had three children,—Mary, b. 1709, married John Hannum, No. 7 of this record; James, b. in the winter of 1710-11; Joseph, b. 8.24.1712. James, the father, died in 1732, and in his will devised to his wife 100 acres of the homestead, and the remainder to his son James, together with 1200 acres in the township of Nantmeal, 250 acres in another tract, and half his share in the Goshen mill, in said county. To his son Joseph he gave 400 acres adjoining the homestead, 1000 acres on a branch of Conestoga, 250 acres of land he bought from James Harlan, and the other half share in the mill. Ann Gibbons, widow of James, married William Pim, of East Caln, 1.13.1733-4, and died in 1753.

Joseph Gibbons, the son of James and Ann, married 3.23.1734, Hannah Marshall, sister of Humphrey Marshall, the botanist, born 9.7.1715. They resided on the 400 acres in Westtown given him by his father, where he died about the close of the Revolution. He was a very active man, both in church and state, and a member of Assembly for fifteen consecutive years, 1748-63. He had nine children, the third of whom, Joseph, married Margery Hannum, No. 20 of this record.

No. 21. John Hannum 3″ was an active Whig, and an influential citizen of Chester County from the days of the Revolution to the day of his death. Dec. 20, 1774, a general meeting of the citizens of Chester County was convened at the court-house, in the borough of Chester, to devise measures for the protection of their rights as freemen, in pursuance of the recommendation of the Continental Congress.

A committee of seventy were appointed accordingly, of whom John Hannum was one. From that time he was a zealous participant in all the movements which led to and resulted in the independence of the United States. Most of the time he was a magistrate, and was often employed by the civil authorities in important confidential business, as well as holding a commission in the militia, having on May 17" 1777 been commissioned Colonel of the First Battalion of Associate Battalions for Chester County.

At the time the British army invaded Chester County, on its way from the Head of Elk to Philadelphia, Col. Hannum resided at the "Centre House" (now in the village of Marshallton), between the two main branches of the Brandywine, and the night of Sept. 10, 1777, was passed by Thomas Cheyney, Esq., a relative of Col. Hannum, at the house of the latter. (At that perilous crisis it was not deemed prudent for Squire Cheyney to lodge at his own home.) Next morning—being Brandywine battle-day—the two set out together to visit the American army, known to be then in the vicinity of Chads' Ford. As they descended towards the west branch of the stream, near Trimble's mill and ford, they discovered coming down from the hills opposite a very numerous body of soldiers, evidently British. This very much surprised Messrs. Hannum and Cheyney, and they moved round the adjacent hills, in order to observe the direction taken by the enemy. Finding them going toward Jefferis' Ford, on the east branch, and believing them to constitute the chief portion of the English army, our friends resolved at once, and at some personal risk, to proceed with the intelligence to Gen. Washington.

Squire Cheyney, being mounted on a fleet hackney, pushed down the stream from Jefferis' Ford until he found the American commander-in-chief, and had an interview with him. Although Washington was at first disposed to doubt the correctness of the information, he was at length convinced of its truth, and immediately disposed of his troops to meet the emergency. It is said that some of the general's staff spoke rather sneeringly and incredulously of the rustic squire's information, which roused his temper. "If you doubt my word," said he to the commander-in-chief, "put me under guard till you ask Anthony Wayne or Persie Frazer if I am a man to be believed;" and then, turning to the general's attendants, he indignantly exclaimed, "I would have you know that I have this day's work as much at heart as e'er a blood of you!"

with his old friend, Gen. Wayne, until the night of the "Paoli massacre."

After that cruel affair he returned to his residence, where, a short time afterwards, he was captured one night in his bed by a party of British light-horse, who had been piloted thither by a Tory neighbor, and was carried a prisoner to Philadelphia. The party robbed Mrs. Hannum of her gold watch, and took everything of value in the house that they could carry away. The colonel subsequently made his escape, and was soon actively aiding the great cause in which he had embarked. May 16, 1778, the Council taking into consideration the appointing of commissioners, agreeably to the act of attainder, etc.: "Ordered, That the following persons be appointed, to wit: For the county of Chester, William Evans, Thomas Cheyney, Thomas Levis, Patterson Bell, and John Hannum." Sept. 25, 1779, two affidavits of the circumstances of Col. Hannum's escape from the enemy were read, and ordered to be forwarded to Gen. Washington.

Nov. 7, 1781, he resigned his office of justice of the peace, in consequence of his election to the General Assembly; and on the 9th of the same month he resigned the office of commissioner of forfeited estates in the county of Chester.

April 16, 1782, an order was drawn in favor of Col. John Hannum for his services as one of the auditors for settling the depreciation of the pay of the Pennsylvania line. He was elected to the Assembly in the year 1781, '82, '83, and '85, and again in 1792. He was also a delegate from Chester County in the State convention for ratifying the Constitution of the United States. While in the Assembly he was instrumental in procuring the repeal of the Test Law, which was enacted during the struggle for independence, in order to keep the opponents of that measure out of the government of the State, and prevent their mischievous interference. When independence was established the "Test" was considered a grievance, and its repeal was agreed to.

On Dec. 13, 1793, Col. Hannum was commissioned Register of Wills and Recorder of Deeds for Chester County, which office he held for about five years, when he was succeeded by his son Richard. He, in conjunction with his friend, John Patton, was probably the most active and influential man in the county in procuring the removal of the seat of Justice from Chester (the ancient Upland) to the vicinity of the Turk's Head, in Goshen Township; Hannum and Patton were the real founders of West Chester.

The first regular movement for a new seat of Justice appears to have been an Act of Assembly, passed Mar. 20, 1780, authorizing Wm. Clingan and others, to build a new Court House and Prison in the County of Chester, and to sell tlhe old Court House and Prison in the Borough of Chester. Those gentlemen—being either negligent, or, more probably, a majority of them opposed to the project— failed to perform the duties assigned to them by the act, and a supplement was enacted on the 22″ of Mar. 1784, authorizing John Hannum and others, to carry the aforesaid act into execution. These Commissioners were earnest removalists, and went to work with a will. They were restricted, by the "Supplement," from erecting the buildings at a greater distance than one mile and a half from the Turk's Head Tavern. Tradition says that this distance was named at the instance of Col. Hannum, a shrewd politician, who was of opinion that it would allow the Public Buildings to be located on his own lands, lying on the left bank of the Brandywine, near the junction of the Valley Creek with that stream. The tradition is fortified by the circumstance, that the "Supplement" further required the buildings to be "to the west or Southwest of said Turk's Head Tavern, and on or near the straight line from the ferry, called the corporation ferry, on Schuylkill, to the village of Strasburgh;" which "straight line" would pass through, or very near the Colonel's land. But he was mistaken in the distance: for his premises proved to be more than two miles from the Turk's Head. The mistake, however, did not prevent the Commissioners from going on with the work. They contracted for the site, near the Turk's Head Tavern, where the Court House now stands, and commenced the buildings. Col. Hannum took care to be an extensive lot and land holder, and also a builder of houses, contiguous to the adopted site. The Colonel was a sort of County Autocrat,—and, for a long time, managed matters in his own way. He built the old Washington Hotel, on High street, with only a narrow alley between it and the Court House; with a view to secure the patronage of the Judges to the hotel, he projected a kind of gallery, or passageway, from the second story across the alley into the Hall of Justice, for the accommodation of their Honors: and even went so far toward effecting an opening as to remove some stones from the Court House wall,—when the County Commissioners mustered courage enough to forbid further operations. The gaps made in the wall, testified to the presumptuous liberty thus taken, for many years, until the exterior of the old building was renovated by a rough coat of plastering, and pebble-dashing. While these proceedings were in train, at the Turk's Head, the worthy Burghers of ancient Upland were concocting a violent opposition to what they naturally regarded as an injurious, if not ruinous, project.

The operations of the workmen at the new Public Buildings were suspended by the ensuing winter, before the walls were quite completed, and the functions of the Commissioners, themselves, were interrupted by an Act of Assembly, obtained the 30″ of Mar. 1785, to suspend the Supplement which authorized them! When the Uplanders found the removal project thus checked, by the suspending act, they took fresh courage, and indulged the hope that the whole scheme might yet be defeated. To make assurance doubly sure, they deemed it best to demolish the work already done—and thereby remove all pretext for going on with it at a future day. Accordingly, they mustered their forces,—and being provided with a field piece, a barrel of whiskey, and other warlike munitions, they took up the line of march toward the Turk's Head, in order to batter down the unfinished walls of the new Court House and Prison. This was a critical epoch in the history of our venerable Bailiwick. The Turk's Head people made vigorous preparations for defence. The vicinage was aroused, and ransacked for arms and ammunition; old Thomas Beaumont (long afterward known as a faithful Peace officer in West Chester) rode all night, among the farm houses of Goshen and Bradford, collecting powder and lead; the walls were duly manned; and the anxious public of Chester County stood in breathless expectation of a renewal of the terrific scenes formerly enacted at Fort Christiana by the Knickerbockers and the Swedes.

When the Uplanders, or Old Chester people, came in sight of the works, and found them garrisoned by numerous sturdy retainers of Hannum and his colleagues,—the "better part of valor" suggested the propriety of a parley, before resorting to the ultima. ratio. An armistice accordingly took place and negotiations were entered into on the spot, in order to prevent the effusion of blood, and other calamities. Neither Protocols nor diplomatic correspondence have come down to us, to show the precise character of the negotiation; but tradition informs us that the Turk's Head people finally consented to wait for the sanction of the Legislature before proceeding further with the public buildings, and in consequence thereof, the portentious meeting terminated in a grand pacific jollification:—such as would startle the "tee-totallers" of our day.

On the 18″ of Mar. 1786, the suspending act was repealed, and the building soon thereafter completed. The building of the present Court House was completed in 1847. Col. John Hannum was an extensive land owner in Chester County, and also took out patents of lands in other counties of the state, as appears from the following extract from a letter received from the Secretary of Internal Affairs for Pennsylvania,—"On the 27th day of March, 1793, John Hannum and Charles Dilworth entered in the Land Office an application for 52 warrants of 400 acres each, in Huntingdon county. The surveys located thereon are now included in the counties of Blair and Cambria. Among the names in this application appear those of John Hannum, Jr., and Jonathan, Washington, Richard M., James, Caleb, Jane, Mary and other members of the family. All of the tracts surveyed on warrants issued in the names above given were patented prior to 1800. There are two other batches of warrants located in Bedford and Cambria counties which include the names of the same and other members of the Hannum family."

No. 36. Concerning this marriage, one of our correspondents says Anthony Baldwin married Ann Davis; some think her name was not Ann, but cannot say what it was. From data contained in deeds, wills, court proceedings, and from family names we conclude that her name was Elizabeth and not Ann Davis. From a deed executed by Elizabeth Baldwin, widow of Anthony Baldwin, Nov. 22, 1794, on record at Media, Pa., are taken the following extracts:—"This Indenture, Made the 22″ day of Nov, A.D.

1794, Between Elizabeth Baldwin of the Township of West Marlborough, in the County of Chester, in the State of Pennsylvania, Widow, of the one part, and Caleb Brinton of the Township of Birmingham, in the said County of Chester, Gentleman, of the other part: Whereas, John Chads, late of the said Township of Birmingham, deceased, by virtue of sundry, good conveyances and assurances in the law duly had and executed, became in his lifetime and at the time of his decease, lawfully seized in his demesne as of fee of and in divers lands and tenements situate in the said Township of Birmingham, and being so thereof seized, made and published his last Will and Testament in writing, bearing date the 10″ day of the 10″ month A.D. 1760, and thereby (amongst other things therein mentioned) did devise in the following words, viz:—Item. I give and bequeath unto my dear and beloved wife Elizabeth, all my plantation and tract of land and premises with its appurtenances where I now live adjoining the land of Isaac Harvey, containing about 40 acres, to hold to her my said wife for and during the term of her natural life without impeachment of waste, and from and immediately after her decease I devise the same land and premises to my cousin, Joseph Davis, his heirs and assigns forever. But if the said Joseph Davis should be dead at the decease of my said wife, then I devise the said land and premises to the heirs and representatives of the said Joseph Davis, their heirs and assigns forever. And shortly after the making and publishing the said Will, he the said testator died, without altering or revoking the same, as by the same Will duly proved, filed, and remaining on record in the Register's Office in the said County of Chester, may at large appear. And Whereas, the said Elizabeth Chads, the widow of the said testator, having survived the said Joseph Davis, is since lately deceased, Whereby the said tract of land and premises so devised as aforesaid decended to the heirs and representatives of the said Joseph Davis, deceased, agreeably to the purport and direction of the said recited last Will and Testament. And Whereas, in pursuance of a writ of Partition issued out of the County Court of Common Pleas for the County of Delaware, directed to the Sheriff of said County, the said Sheriff with an Inquest sworn and affirmed for the purpose of parting and dividing the said land and premises amongst the heirs and representatives aforesaid, did assign, and deliver the lot, or piece of land hereinafter described, and intended to be hereby granted, unto Anthony Baldwin and Elizabeth his wife, in right of the said Elizabeth (party hereto), she being one of the children and legal representatives of the aforesaid Joseph Davis, dec'd, and it being the share and purpart of the said Elizabeth of and in the land and premises aforesaid, which Inquisition of Partition was afterwards at a Court of Common Pleas held at Chester in the said County of Delaware, confirmed as firm and stable forever. And Whereas, the said Anthony Baldwin is now deceased since making of the Partition aforesaid."

The proceedings in Partition above referred to were those of No. 19, to April Term 1793, wherein William Davis, Nathan Hayes and Sarah his wife, Anthony Baldwin and Elizabeth his wife, John Marsh and Parthenia his wife, Benjamin Davis, and Joseph Davis were parties. Elizabeth, or Betsy Davis as she was called, was the mother of Amy Davis, first wife to Peter Hannum, No. 70, herein, and the grandmother of their son Davis Hannum.

Elizabeth Baldwin, of West Marlborough Township, Chester Co., Pa., in her Will dated Oct. 2″ 1802, and proven Jan 30″ 1804, mentions her daughter Sarah Atherington, her granddaughters Sarah Atherington, and Elizabeth Baldwin, her grandson, Davis Hannum, four sons, Joseph, George, Nathan, and William. Jason Davis was a witness to this Will.

Her son George was no doubt the George Baldwin who married Mary Hannum, No. 71 herein, for among their children are found his mother's family names, Benjamin Davis Baldwin, and Joseph Davis Baldwin.

No. 57. Robert Taylor, of Little Leigh, Chester, England, came to America and purchased land; his Will speaks of him as of Springfield, Chester Co., Pa., and his son Isaac, born in England, lived in Springfield; died 1717. Isaac in 1689 married Sarah, daughter of Mary Broadwell, and their son Josiah Taylor, born 4.17.1708, married Jane Stewart, 3.14.1730, at Bradford, and resided in Kennett Township, Chester Co., and was the father of Abraham Taylor, who married Rebecca Way.

No. 58. CHRISTOPHER PENNOCK, the ancestor of the Pennock family, married prior to 1675, Mary Collett, daughter of George Collett, of Clonmell, Ireland. After residing there and in England for some time he emigrated to Pennsylvania, prior to 1685, and died in Philadelphia in 1701. Tradition says that he was in the service of William of Orange, and at the battle of Boyne in 1690.

His son, JOSEPH PENNOCK, was born in 1677, in or near Clonmell. In one of his passages to this country, in a Letter of Marque, he was captured by a French Ship of War, and confined in France as a prisoner upwards of a year, where he edured much hardship. In 1702 he settled in Philadelphia, where he engaged in the mercantile business, and about the year 1714, he removed to West Marlborough, Chester Co., Pa., and settled on a large tract of land, of which he became Proprietor, by virtue of a grant from William Penn to George Collet, his Grandfather. He there, in 1738, erected a large mansion, "Primitive Hall," in which he died in 1771.

JOSEPH PENNOCK, born 18″ of 11″ month in 1677, married Mary Levis of Darby, born 9″ of 8″ month 1685. Joseph died 27″ of March 1771. Mary died 2″ January 1747-48. They had 12 children, of whom the third named was WILLIAM, born 11″ of May 1707; his first wife was Hannah Chamberlain, no children. His second wife was Alice Mendenhall, by whom he had 9 children, of whom the last named, PHEBE, married JACOB WAY.

No. 70. PETER HANNUM.—The following is an extract from a land patent signed by James Monroe, Pres. U. S., and Josiah Meigs, Com. of the General Land Office:

"Know Ye, That, in pursuance of the Acts of Congress appropriating and granting Land to the late Army of the United States, passed on and since the sixth day of May, 1812, Anne N. Hannum, Daughter, and the other Heirs at Law of Peter Hannum having deposited in the General Land-Office a Warrant in their favor, number 17,139, there is granted unto the said Anne N. Hannum, Daughter, and the other Heirs at Law of Peter Hannum late a Private in Cummings' Company of the Fourteenth regiment of Infantry, a certain Tract of Land, containing one hundred and sixty acres being the Southeast $\frac{1}{4}$ of Section eight of Township three north of Range seven West in the Tract appropriated (by the Acts aforesaid) for military Bounties, in the Territory of Illinois. To Have and to Hold the said quarter Section of Land, with the appurtenances thereof, unto the said Anne N. Hannum, Daughter, and the other Heirs at law of Peter Hannum and to their heirs and assigns forever, as tenants in common and not as joint tenants.

In Testimony Whereof, I have caused these Letters to be made Patent, and the Seal of the General Land-Office to be hereunto affixed. Given under my Hand, at the City of Washington, this twenty Seventh day of May, in the Year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighteen and of the Independence of the United States of America the forty second."

Endorsements,—Recorded Vol. 25 P. 193. Recorded June 4" 1821, in Recorder's Office for Pike County, Illinois, in Vol. 1, pages 323 & 324. Gently rolling Rich prairie.

It is said Peter Hannum was killed in battle somewhere along the Susquehanna River.

No. 90. Lieutenant William Gibbons, a son of the second Joseph, was one of the young men of Chester County who was honorably distinguished in the war for independence.

He belonged to the Sixth Pennsylvania Regiment, and was selected by General Wayne to lead a forlorn hope of twenty men in the most brilliant and daring exploit of the war—the capture of the enemy's fortress on the Hudson River, at Stony Point. The approaches to the enemy's works were obstructed first by a deep morass, and then by double rows of abatis in front and flank. It was the duty of Gibbons to cross this morass with his men, remove the abatis and other obstructions, and thus open the way for the assaulting party, consisting of one hundred and fifty volunteers, with unloaded muskets and fixed bayonets, constituting the van of the right column.

A like duty was assigned to Lieut. Knox, of the Ninth Pennsylvania Regiment, with twenty men, who preceded the van of the left. The order for the assault was given at midnight on the 15" of July, 1779, with specific and pointed orders that there was to be no firing on the enemy, but that the whole dependence of the assaulting columns was to be placed on the bayonet alone. Gibbons moved across the morass with his twenty men. A terrific and incessant fire of musketry and grape-shot was opened from the fortress on the advancing heroes. Not a shot was returned. Encouraged by the resolute lieutenant, not a man flinched from his duty. Seventeen of the twenty fell, killed or wounded, but Gibbons accomplished his work, and the assaulting column, following him, forced its way by the bayonet alone through the fire and into the fortress, and in the very center of the works met the van of the left, which had been equally successful. The garrison surrendered at discretion. General Wayne's official report of the capture of Stony Point, may be found in the 8″ volume of The Remembrancer, p. 368, etc., and also the resolutions of thanks passed by Congress the 26″ of July, 1779, for what they distinguish as "a glorious enterprise." Among the resolutions is the following: "Resolved, That Congress warmly approve and applaud the cool determined spirit with which Lieut. Gibbons and Lieut. Knox led on the forlorn hope, braving danger and death in the cause of their country." A sword was presented to each of them by Congress, with a brevet of captain.

Lieut. Gibbons was afterwards promoted to the rank of major, continued in the service till the end of the war, and returned to private life deeply marked by honorable scars. He removed to Virginia, and was appointed by President Washington, United States collector of the port of Richmond. He was a warm federalist, and when Jefferson was elected to the Presidency he was urged to remove Gibbons from the office, under the pretext that he had entertained at his house the friends of Aaron Burr during his trial.

On being strongly pressed, Mr. Jefferson jocularly but peremptorily replied, "Remove the major! I would sooner divide my last hoe-cake with him!" The Major died unmarried. There seems to be no record of the date of his death.

No. 106. Washington Lee Hannum emigrated to Tennessee soon after being admitted to the Chester County Bar. His daughter Elizabeth—Mrs. James Butler Daniell, speaking of her parents, says,—her first recollection is their moving from Nashville to Somervillle, Tennessee, from there to Memphis, where her mother died, and where they remained until 1835, or 1836, when they moved to Texas. He landed at Cockes Point, near Matagorda, from there he went to Texana, where he placed three of his children in the family of a Mr. Wells to board, and went to New Orleans, Louisiana, on business. During his absence the Wells family and all Americans were forced to abandon their homes on account of the near approach of General Almonte, who was leading the Mexican army in that section. On Washington Lee Hannum's return from New Orleans, after scouring the country he found his children camped out in the woods. Lucian Hannum was with me, and had no saddle—his father went to the town of Columbus which was almost entirely abandoned, to get a saddle, and while there he was captured by the Mexicans a few days before the battle of San Jacinto took place; soon after this he returned to Matagorda and died. His library and family records were burned by the Mexicans.

Sterling C. Robertson, an uncle to Mrs. Daniell, and who was at that time settling a colony in Texas, sent for the children and put them to board at a wealthy planter's, on Old Cany (Caney River?), where Maria Louisa was married to A. B. Fluery.

It is also said that a son was captured with W. L. Hannum, that they made their escape, and were several days without food except the fruit of the cactus, when they came upon a pecan tree full of nuts, of which they ate freely; they succeeded in getting within the American lines, but soon died from the exposure and improper diet.

The above has reference to the war wherein Texas gained her indepencence.

No. 123. In 1817, Joseph Hannum petitioned the court for a license to keep a Public House of entertainment at his residence in Concord, "on the road leading from West Chester by Concord Meeting to Old Chester." This was at "the original brick dwelling on the Hannum property," and where the "Buck" was formerly kept. See Ante. In his application for a renewal of his license, in 1818, he gave the house the name of the "White Horse," and in his subsequent applications annually to and including the year 1836, he asked permission to keep such house at the sign of the "White Horse," or at the "White Horse Inn." In most instances his licenses were renewed upon his own petition, unaided by signers, or recommenders, and always without opposition. The elections of the neighborhood were held here, and it is said that when this ceased to be a public house they were removed to the public house of John Way, at Concordville. In 1858 David M. Hannum of Chester County applied for a license for this house under its former name, the "Concordville Inn," which was granted him, giving bond in the sum of $500.00 with William Hannum and Nathaniel Walter as sureties; no evidence is found that David ever took out the license, and it is believed he did not; he is supposed to have been the son-in-law of John Way the former landlord.

No. 127. In 1839, Norris Hannum in a petition for a license set forth that he had lately purchased and removed to that well known Public House (sign of the Providence Inn), in the Township of Nether Providence, Delaware County; and in 1840, he petitioned for a license and set forth that he had lately purchased and removed to that well known Public House (sign of the Darby Village Inn), in the Town of Darby, in said county. His license was renewed annually till 1847; this year he set forth that he then owned and had for a number of years kept the well known Public House (sign of the Farmers and Mechanics Inn), in the Township of Darby. He died May 16" 1847, and his widow, Sarah H. Hannum, asked for and obtained the license for that year, and for 1848, 49, 50 and 51, under the name of the Farmers and Mechanics Inn.

No. 242. Dinah Mendenhall was a life-long worker in the cause of anti-slavery and temperance. In this she and her husband were in perfect accord. In the early years of their married life they bore testimony against the prevailing evils of slavery with others among the Society of Friends. She belonged to the Old Kennett Friends' Meeting. The building where they worshipped stands on the State Road, about three miles east of Kennett Square. When it became evident that they could no longer remain in the meeting and advocate their views Mr. and Mrs. Mendenhall and others of a like mind assembled at Marlborough Meeting House, where were held the famous Marlborough conferences. They also, with others, to the number of 58, signed a call for a conference in Kennett Meeting House, Nov. 22" 1853. The next year Longwood Meeting House was built. In this work they were associated with Joseph A. Dougdale and many others. One of the most active organizers associated with Mrs. Mendenhall and her husband was Oliver Johnson, now or late of New York or Brooklyn. Many a time did she welcome him to her home. Others of the anti-slavery leaders, such as Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Gerritt Smith, and C. C. Burliegh have been among her guesths. When she heard that Oliver Johnson was not expected to live she sent word to his friends that if he should die she wished his body brought on to her home, and the funeral take place from there. Mrs. Mendenhall was of a kind, liberal nature, and many a cause of charity was quietly and unostentatiously aided by her. The cause of temperance and prohibition was always a welcome theme with her for discussion, and her contributions in aid of the work were liberal.

No. 366. John Douglass left Cambria County, Pa., Nov. 15" 1831, landed in Texas Jan 1" 1832, settled in Dillion Colony, now Lavaca County, Nov. 20" 1833. During the Texan Revolution he with his wife, daughter Elizabeth, and son Silverious were killed by the Indians on April 5" 1836. Augustin D. and Thaddeus escaped, and after travelling five days fell in with a detachment of the Mexican Army, then overrunning the country, with whom they remained six weeks before getting back to the Americans.

No. 393. Caleb H. Kinnard, in May, 1834, became part owner with William Jenkins, of the Waynesburg Press and Chester, Berks and Lancaster Advertiser, published at Waynesburg (now Honeybrook), Chester County, Pa., the publication of which they discontinued, and removed the printing press and materials to Downingtown, and there, on June 10" of the same year, established the American Spectator and People's Friend. This was published until 1835, when on March 31" Mr. Kinnard purchased the interest of George Fisher in the American Republican and Chester County Democrat, the publishers becoming Price and Kinnard; on May 7" 1839, Mr. Kinnard sold his interest to Nimrod Strickland. George W. Pearce became the owner of the paper in 1853, and in 1863 he purchased of Samuel R. Downing the Chester County Times and merged it in the Republican; Mr. Pearce died in April, 1864, and in November of the same year Mr. Kinnard became the sole owner of the paper which he published from that date until January, 1866, wnen he sold it to Maj. E. B. Moore, who published it for a number of years; it was a West Chester publication. Mr. Kinnard was the editor and proprietor of several newspapers, and a gentleman of considerable literary taste. He was elected treasurer of Chester County in 1864, for a period of two years. He was for a number of years a member of the firm of Fairlamb and Kinnard, in the hardware business in West Chester, Pa.

Gen. John Gibbon was appointed to the Military Academy at West Point from the State of North Carolina; at the time of his death he was Commander-in-Chief of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion.

GENERAL GIBBON'S MILITARY RECORD.

General Gibbon entered the Military Academy in September, 1842, and graduated July 1, 1847. At that time he received the appointment of Brevet Second Lieutenant in the Third Artillery, but in the following September was transferred to the Fourth Artillery. He saw service in the Mexican war, and was present at the capture of the City of Mexico. He was promoted to First Lieutenant in September, 1850. From 1848 to 1854, inclusive, he was on frontier duty; then ,for five years, he was stationed at West Point as Assistant Instructor of Artillery. In 1859 he was made Captain of Artillery, and as such entered the War of the Rebellion, serving as Chief of Artillery in Gen. McDowell's army until May, 1862, when he was appointed Brigadier General of Volunteers and assigned to a brigade in the Army of the Potomac. In September, 1862, he was brevetted Major in the regular army for gallant service at Antietam. In November, 1862, he was placed in command of a division, and led it in the battle of Fredericksburg, where he was wounded. For gallant conduct in this battle he was made Lieutenant Colonel in the regular army.

His wound kept him at home for three months, but he returned to the army in time to take part in the battle of Chancellorsville.

He was in command of the Second Corps at the battle of Gettysburg, where he was severely wounded again and had to leave the army from July 4 until November 15. Subsequently he took part in Grant's Richmond campaign, and was present at the battles of the Wilderness, Spottsylvania, Cold Harbor, etc. Subsequently he commanded the Twenty-fourth Army Corps, and was in active service in the operations about Petersburg until Lee's surrender, being promoted from one grade to another until he was finally made Brevet Major General of Volunteers and Colonel and Brevet Brigadier General of the regular army.

After being mustered out of the volunteer service General Gibbon went back to the frontier, where, as Colonel, first of the Thirty-sixth Infantry, and afterwards of the Seventh Infantry, he saw much hard fighting against the Indians, being wounded again at the battle of Big Hole Mountain, August 9, 1877. At the time of his retirement, in 1891, he was Commander of the Department of California.

No. 1404. Henry Clay Merritt graduated in the Law School of Cumberland University, at Lebanon, Tenn., in 1861; joined the Confederate army in 1861, was in infantry, 1st Ky. Reg., Army of Va., for 12 months; afterwards joined the cavalry, Gen. Jno. H. Morgan's command. Was captured near Buffington Island, O., July 19, 1863, and remained in prison until after the entire Confederate army had surrendered; was released in June, 1865; commenced the practice of law in September, 1865; was Mayor of Clarksville in 1869 and 1870, formed a partnership with the Hon. Jno. F. House in 1872.

No. 1447. Promptly on the first call for troops by President Lincoln, in the Spring of 1861, Emmor B. Cope left his father's foundry, on the banks of the Brandywine and enlisted. The quota of three months men had been filled and he joined a company raised by Captain Henry M. McIntyre, under the company name of Brandywine Guards, and on the same day, June 4" 1861, his company was mustered into the three years service as Company A, 30″ Reg. Pa. Vol. Infantry, known as the 1″ Reg. Pa. Reserve Volunteer Corps.

He was elected Corporal at the first meeting of the company for the election of officers; promoted to Sargeant June 10″ 1861; detailed clerk A. A. G. office of Division, October, 1861; the company served for about a year at Division Headquarters, Gen. George A. McCall; he was transferred to Company "C," 5″ U. S. Artillery as Corporal, April, 1862; returned to Co. A 1″ Reg., June, 1862; was in command of the company at the battles of Manassas and South Mountain; detailed to Topographical Engineers' Headquarters, Army of the Potomac, January, 1863, to May 10″ 1864; his merits as an engineer soon became known, and he was promoted to Captain of Volunteers April 20″ 1864, and appointed to duty as A.D.C. on the staff of Major General G. K. Warren, commanding 5″ Army Corps, and became in time Chief of Engineers on the corps staff; promoted to Major and A.D.C. Feb. 9″ 1865; brevet Lt. Colonel June 26″ 1865, and mustered out of service same month. His maps of the ground over which the Army of the Potomac fought were pronounced the finest and most correct on file in the War Department. This was especially so of his map of the battle ground at Gettysburg and its surroundings. He took part in the following named battles: Mechanicsville, 1″ Cold Harbor, Malvern Hill, Manassas, South Mountain, Antietam, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Wilderness, Spottsylvania, Totopotomy, North Anna, Bethesda Church, 2″ Cold Harbor, 1″ Petersburg, Norfolk R. R.; 2″ Petersburg, Jerusalem Plank Road; 3″ Petersburg, Weldon R. R.; 4″ Petersburg, Globe Tavern; 5″ Petersburg, Quaker Road; 1″ and 2″ Dabney's Mill.

When the Government came to make a selection of an officer as Superintendent of its affairs at Gettysburg, Colonel Cope was chosen, and he is at present assisting in developing the Gettysburg National Park as Chief Engineer of the Gettysburg National Park Commission, where he has been since July, 1893.

No. 1457. Lucius Smith Windle.

"Headquarters Nineteenth U.S. Infantry,

The Regimental Commander with regret has to announce to the officers of the regiment, the decease of Brevet First Lieutenant L. S. Windle, Second Lieutenant Nineteenth Infantry, at Little Rock, Ark., on the 8th day of February, 1870.

Lieutenant Windle entered the service as a private in the 3rd Ohio Volunteers April 1st, 1861, served as an enlisted man till after the battle of Shiloh, at which time he gained his Lieutenancy. Promoted to a Captaincy in the 113th Ohio Volunteers, and engaged in the battles of Chickamauga, Missionary Ridge, Peach Tree Creek, Resacca, Kenesaw Mountain, Atlanta, Jonesboro, Nashville and Bentonville, N.C. Brevetted Major of Volunteers for gallantry during the war; appointed a Second Lieutenant in the Nineteenth Infantry March, 1867; Brevetted First Lieutenant U. S. Army for conspicuous gallantry at the battle of Jonesboro, North Carolina. His death will be mourned by a large circle of friends, endeared to him by his many noble qualities as a gentleman and a soldier. As a token of respect, the officers of the regiment will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

By command of Brevet Major General R. B. Ayers, Lieutenant Colonel Nineteenth U. S. Infantry.

Official:

S. M. Mills,

First Lieutenant and Adjutant, Nineteenth U. S. Infantry.

No. 1605. Word has been received in West Chester of the drowning of Joseph H. Painter in the rapids of Stubblefield Falls, of the Potomac River, ten miles above Washington, D.C., yesterday afternoon. The telegraphic news gives the following particulars of the sad event:

"Joseph H. Painter, 30 years old, a botanist connected with the National Museum, and R. S. Fallis, 16 years old, an electrician, drowned this morning in the Potomac River. The men were on a canoe trip up the narrows of the river, where rocks are plentiful. About noon the canoe was found bottom up in the river.

"The police believe the accident was the result of running into a sunken rock and overturning the shell in shooting the Stubblefield Falls.

"No trace of the bodies was found."

The deceased was a native of Delaware County, being the oldest son of the late Charles J. and Annie House Painter, of Brandywine Summit. He, with his brother and sister, Amos and Lillian, were left orphans while quite young, and he was brought up by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos House, of Chadd's Ford.

Joseph Painter, after having obtained a good common school education, went to State College, where he took special branches and also tutored younger students. He was so apt in scientific studies that Prof. Surface, now State Zoologist, took a liking to him and assisted in his botanical and other researches. Later, by recommendation of Dr. Surface, the deceased was appointed to a position in the National Museum at Washington several years ago, where he had since been advanced to an excellent position. He was particularly apt in technical names of plants, and had charge of the labeling of new specimens. He went on two trips to Mexico with scientists of note of this country, and was of valuable assistance. He brought home many new specimens which are valuable.

A short time since he was elected a member of an exclusive scientific club of savants, who own a ten-acre island on the Potomac River above Washington, where the entree is not from wealth, but knowledge. It is a rugged camp on a picturesque island between two rapid sections of the Potomac. The campers reach the island in canoes, pulling themselves across the rapids by a double overhead wire rigged on pulleys. It is supposed that the canoe was overturned on this last trip of the deceased, who had been overset several times before, but managed to swim out.

The deceased was a member of Concordville Lodge, No. 625, F. & A. M. He joined several years since with the late Sellers Hoffman, Jr., being warm friends.

The deceased was an exemplary, bright, industrious, capable man, who made many friends by his efforts and attention to duty.—Daily Local News, Dec. 7" '08.

The body was found later and interred in Friends' Grounds at Concordville.

No. 1863. Edward Edmondson was a distinguished artist; while he claimed portrait painting as a specialty, he produced fruit and game pictures, and landscape views with perhaps more than equal facility; and Californians said of him, "that no artist has ever painted the atmospheric effects of their lovely climate like he had."

Extracts from newspaper cuttings:

"Among the varied attractions of Santa Barbara, the studio of Edward Edmondson, the artist, deserves to rank first. Fruits, flowers, game, and landscape he portrayed almost equal to nature, and in the realm of fruit painting he had no peer. Some of his views of the Yosemite have been pronounced by competent artists to be the finest ever painted. It is claimed that to his genius and skill is due in a great measure the growth of artistic taste in Santa Barbara. * * His parents were both Quakers of Scotch descent, his father a tanner and curier by trade with no love for painting, no faith in his son's genius, and proposed to make a tanner of him. Edward served his time as an apprentice till he was twenty years old. With no material except fish oil and lampblack, such as was used upon the leather, the young artist painted his first pictures, and with these he decorated the walls of the tanyard and the leather store. For five or six years he persevered, and the only tints he had were sometimes a little red or white lead. With his apprenticeship ended his life as a tanner, and at that time he implored his father to allow him to take one lesson of a portrait painter in the neighborhood. When this plan was broken to his father, the old gentleman stared, as if he thought the boy demented, and whistled.

The preliminary lesson was finally agreed to, with the understanding that the father was to foot the bill. He appeared before the artist and in Mr. Edmondson's own words, 'he made up a palette of tints; sat down on my chair in front of the canvas, gave two dabs to the forehead, and then got up and said, 'Go on that way.' That was my first and last lesson. I went on that way; have been going on that way ever since.' He saw no more of the painter during the 'lesson.' When the time was up, the master appeared, declared it 'good,' and wanted a five dollar fee. This opened his eyes; he knew it would his father's. But he faced him with it. The old man whistled again, exclaimed 'tut-tut,' but issued the coin. Two or three years rolled on, and he had sold several pictures for trivial sums, when one day he was rudely awakened from his dreams. His father presented him with a bill for $1000 for his board and expenses. Now, indeed, was utter desperation; this seemed 'too much of a mountain to climb." He started out to seek, not his fortune, but an opportunity to paint chairs. But he was born for far better things, and could not paint chairs to suit the market, and he returned to the art. By slow degrees, his rare talent became known, now and then a picture sold, gradually rising in execution and in fame, he at last astonished both himself and his father by paying the $1000, and again, by buying the homestead property upon which he was born and where he lived, painted and fought with adverse fates for a period of fifty years.

On the 20″ of November, 1880, Mr. Edmondson, with his wife and son, went to Santa Barbara for his health, he being troubled with heart complaint. Here he received no improvement, and on the 29″ of May, 1883, he and his family removed to San Francisco, expecting to there be improved in health.

Here he opened a studio in Phelan's building, on Market street. His last picture was a pair of California quail, colored with pre-Raphaelite delicacy, and occupying the foreground. In the distance an ideal and characteristic landscape smiled,—a reminiscence of Southern California. At the close of 1883 the brushes were laid aside forever, and they moved to Santa Rosa, where at the hospitable home of Dr. and Mrs. Stuart he breathed his last."

No. 1864. In the year 1888 Eliza Jane Edmondson-Spence reported that she had a small silver cream mug, about 150 eyars old, once the property of her great-grandfather, John Baldwin, No. 38; a silver spoon about 137 years old, once belonging to Lydia Way, No. 59, daughter of Ann Hannum-Way, No. 12; a small pink china snuff box with looking glass in the lid, that belonged to her great-great-grandmother, the said Ann Hannum-Way; a silver spoon, 1793, once her grandmother Hannah Baldwin-Richards'; and a silver (knee?) buckle once her grandfather Richards'.

No. 1868. Henry Marot moved with his parents to Cincinnati, Ohio, when about five years old; from there to Dayton, O., where he finished his education in the public schools. After trying several occupations he settled down to manufacturing chairs. In 1849 he took the gold fever and went overland to California; cured of the fever, returned to Dayton in 1850; resumed the old business for two years; sold out and went to Logan Co., O., where he married Lucy A. Moyse; farmed two years; returned to Dayton, to work in Lewis Marot's chair shop; thence to Kentucky to take charge of his wife's grandfather's farm; it proving unhealthy, removed to Cincinnati; in Sept., 1856, moved to Sydenham, Grey Co., Canada West, where he worked at chair making, carpentering, and farming; in April, 1864, moved to West Liberty, Logan Co., O., and in March, 1865, to Padua, McLean Co., Ill., upon his father's farm, which he rented for three years, when he purchased eighty acres of land, which he improved and upon which he lived for twelve years, when he sold out and moved with stock and furniture to Iowa, where he bought one hundred and sixty acres, and remained two years, when, on account of the health of one of his daughters, he moved to Tangerine, Florida; here he bought ten acres of land, two of which he cleared and improved; engaged in merchandise and was Postmaster, the only public office he ever held; he sold out and moved to Kerr City, Fla., and opened a general merchandise store, bought a lot and built a residence, where he now resides. He moved from Tangerine to Kerr City on account of the better schools at the latter city.

The great-grandfather of Mrs. Lucy A. Moyse-Marot was a seafaring man, and lived on the west coast of Devonshire, England; he had two sons, one of whom was William Moyse, her grandfather, who was a sea captain, and lived at Swansea, South Wales; her father, Thomas Davis Moyse, was a sea captain in the British Merchant service, and half owner of his ship, plying between London and the East Indies; on her mother's side the Knights can show a direct unbroken line back to the Welsh Kings; her mother's father, George Knight, of London, England, married Sarah Harrris; he was a cooper, employing a great many men, after wine merchant at Southampton, England, and died in America; her mother, Lucy Knight, was born in London.

No. 2230. The Roberts family is of Welsh descent. Robert Roberts married Elizabeth Pratt, whose son, Pratt Roberts, was married to Ann, daughter of Charles and Ruth Wilson, of East Marlborough. Ann Wilson's grandfather, Charles Wilson, was an emigrant from Ireland, and her grandfather on her mother's side was Jesse Taylor. The eldest son, and one of five children of Pratt Roberts and his wife Ann (Wilson), was George W. Roberts, born in East Goshen Oct. 2, 1833. He was killed at Stone River (near Murfreesboro'), Dec. 31, 1862, in which battle he was acting brigadier-general under Sheridan. He spent his boyhood days on the home farm, where born. He attended school in West Chester, under that famous teacher, Anthony Bolmar, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and at Haverford. He then went to Yale College, entering the Sophomore class in 1854, and was graduated with high honors in 1857. He had read law while at Yale, and on his return home continued his reading with Hon. Joseph J. Lewis, whose office he entered and with whom he completed his legal studies. He was admitted to the bar 1.8.1858, at West Chester, and there practiced his profession until the spring of 1859, when he removed to Chicago. There, while in the successful practice of his profession, he determined to enter the army, and in company with David Stewart began recruiting for the 42d Illinois Volunteers. July 22, 1861, he received his commission as major of the regiment, and on September 17th was elected lieutenant-colonel, and upon the death of Colonel Webb, Dec. 24, 1861, he was chosen colonel. With his regiment, Col. Roberts took part in the well known march of Gen. Fremont to Springfield, after which the 42d went into quarters at Smithtown, Mo. After the fall of Fort Donelson, the colonel proceeded with his regiment to Fort Holt, near Cairo, where he held command of the fort, at that time garrisoned by his regiment (42d Illinois Volunteers), 8th Ohio, and a battery of the 2d Illinois Artillery. Thence he was ordered to Columbus, after its evacuation by the enemy, and next proceeded to Island No. 10, where he performed a most valuable service during a night expedition in spiking a number of guns. Here Colonel Roberts made his first mark as one of the heroes of the army. Seeing the boats could not pass the island unless the upper battery was silenced, the muzzles of all the guns of which were but a few inches above water, and which could have sunk any boat which might try to pass, he conceived the idea of spiking their guns. On the dark and stormy night of April 1, 1862, when almost a hurricane lashed the waters of the Mississippi, he embarked with but forty men of his regiment, in five small boats, upon the perilous expedition. Its success is history,—noble, grand, and sublime. His regiment was next ordered to Fort Pillow, and from there accompanied Gen. Pope up the Tennessee, and took part in the engagement at Farmington. He distinguished himself in that battle, where he, with Company B of his regiment, covered the retreat. He then served under Brig.-Gen. Palmer, and marched from Decatur to Nashville in command of the 1st brigade, 1st division, Army of the Mississippi. Col. Roberts distinguished himself in several skirmishes with the rebels while intrusted with his command, particularly during the siege of Nashville and its bombardment, Nov. 5, 1862, in which he repelled the enemy from every point assigned to him to defend. Wearied with garrison life, he soon applied to Gen. Rosecrans for more active duty, and was ordered to report to Gen. Sheridan. On the morning of Dec. 30, 1862, he had the advance of the 20th Army Corps, and his skirmish drove the rebels to their breastworks. On the 31st his brigade fought most bravely, engaging two rebel divisions at once,—one in front and one on the right flank,—and not until a third division of the rebels came on his left flank and rear did his troops fall back. He then changed front along the Wilkerson pike, and while gallantly inspiring his men with words and deeds a fatal ball struck him, wounding him mortally. One incident is worthy of mention. While a rebel division (Cleburne's) was driving some of our regiments before them, he asked permission from Gen. Sheridan to charge upon the enemy, which was granted. Galloping up before the 42d Illinois, he waved his cap and ordered them to fix bayonets. The men, filled with enthusiasm at this exhibition of bravery by their loved commander, rushed upon the rebel ranks with irresistable vehemence, and the enemy broke and fled in great confusion.

The discomfiture of the rebel force at that moment was most opportune. It delayed their renewed attack upon our right wing for a considerable time, thus permitting the reforming of our broken columns, and unquestionably greatly contributed to stem the adverse tide of fortune, and the achievement of final victory. When he fell his commission was made out promoting him to a brigadier-generalship. George W. Roberts lives in the memory and affections of the people for his life-blood service to his country.

Upon his monument in Oaklands Cemetery are the following inscriptions:—

East side—Island No. 10.
Fort Madrid. .
Farmington Roads.
Siege of Corinth.
Stone River.

West side— Colonel
George W. Roberts,
Born Oct. 2, 1833.
Died Dec. 31, 1862.
He fell in the War of the Rebellion at the Battle of Stone River, near Murfreesboro, Tenn., While acting Brigadier General in Sheridan's 3rd Brigade.
He was a man of noble aims, high aspirations,
And possessed a most kind, and generous heart.
As a tribute of affection this monument is Erected to his memory by his parents.
Col. Roberts was a graduate of Yale College,
By profession a lawyer, in peace an excellent
Citizen, in war a brave soldier, a skilful
And energetic officer.
His memory
Is embalmed in the hearts of his friends.
Who can never forget his kind disposition
And genial spirit.

No. 8008. Col. Charles Frederick Taylor, Colonel of the Bucktail Regiment (Forty-second).

He spent the early part of his life on his father's farm, near Kennett Square, and was a pupil in the village school. He made rapid progress in the study of the classics and the French language, and in his sixteenth year entered the University at Ann Arbor, Michigan. In the following year he accompanied his brother, the renowned Bayard, and his two sisters, on a tour through Europe. The party sailed from New York in July, 1856, landed in England, and after visiting places of note on the island, the tourists crossed over to the Continent and traveled through France, Germany, Switzerland, and Italy. The younger brother, with his sisters, then settled at Lausanne, whilst Bayard Taylor made his celebrated journey to Sweden and Lapland.

In the spring of 1857, Charles Frederick Taylor left Lausanne with his sisters, and proceeded to Gotha, for the purpose of studying the German language, and in June of the same year returned to America. In addition to having acquired the ability to speak the French and German languages with unusual facility, he experienced great improvement in his health, which up to that time had been feeble. In the fall he returned to Ann Arbor to resume his studies, with the noble ambition of becoming a thorough scholar. Private reasons, however, induced him in the following summer to return to Kennett Square, to assume the management of his father's farm. He entered with great energy and enthusiasm upon his new occupation, adopting new and improved processes with prospect of speedy success. But when the President's call for troops, immediately after the attack on Fort Sumpter roused the nation, our young hero dropped all his plans, summoned the young men of the neighborhood together at Kennett Square, drew up a volunteer pledge, and placed his name at the head of the list. In three days a sufficient number had enrolled their names to form a company, which unanimously chose young Taylor as their captain. Without waiting to correspond with the State authorities to ask acceptance for his company, Capt. Taylor took the men to Harrisburg, and had them incorporated into the Bucktail Regiment. From that time forth his history was the history of his regiment. He was captured at Harrisonburg whilst generously attempting to carry from the field his superior officer; he was paroled in August, and returned to the command at Sharpsburg. After the battle of Antietam, Cap. Taylor was promoted to the colonelcy of the Bucktail Regiment, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Col. McNeil. Colonel Taylor was the youngest man holding a colonel's commission in the Army of the Potomac, and Gen. Meade, a man from whom only the highest merit elicited praise, pronounced him one of the most promising young officers in the service. The conspicuous gallantry of the young colonel attracted the fire of the enemy, and he fell mortally wounded whilst leading his regiment in the desperate charge made by the First Brigade, July 2, 1863, at Gettysburg. He was in the advance of his column, waving his sword, and calling out to them, "Come on, boys! we'll take them all prisoners;" but scarcely had the words escaped his lips when he fell, shot through the heart by a rebel sharpshooter. The remains of Colonel Taylor were carried to his father's house, and were interred in Longwood Cemetery. A beautiful monument, subscribed for principally by the surviving officers and men of his regiment was erected over his grave.

No. 3797. William Torbert Clayton was enrolled as a private in Co. H, 124th Reg. Pa. Vol. Infantry, Aug. 5th, 1862; mustered in for nine months from Aug. 9th, and honorably discharged with his company at Harrisburg, Pa., May 16th, 1863, when he returned to his home, where he remained about a year, when he became uneasy to re-enter the service; being the only son of a widowed mother, who protested, he compromised the matter by entering the U. S. Sanitary Commission, leaving Chester, Pa., for City Point, Va., where was then located the base hospital for the Army of the Potomac, on July 4th, 1864, where he remained until March 4th, 1865, when he again returned home.

In the winter of 1865-6, having concluded to go to Texas, he sold the farm in Bethel, and in company with Edward Barton, J. Henry Barton, Mordecai Lewis, Edwin Harvey, and William Painter, all of Delaware Co., left Chester January 19th, 1866, for the new Eldorado, the cotton fields of the Brazos bottom, Texas, where they expected great results from their combined efforts; but their calculations were frustrated by the cotton or army worm, which in the space of 72 hours destroyed all but 27 out of about 300 bales of cotton. In April of 1866, in the midst of the planting time, Mrs. Edward Barton, Mrs. J. Henry Barton, and Mrs. Lewis, with her son Alfred, joined their husbands on the Brazos; early in June Alfred died. In March, 1867, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left Houston, Texas, for Pennsylvania, taking the remains of their son with them, and were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barton. J. Henry Barton and wife, and Edwin Harvey had some months before this settled and gone into business together in Galveston, Texas; and about this time Mrs. J. Henry Barton returned home and soon thereafter died. William Painter remained in Texas only about seven weeks.

In 1867, came trials and ordeals never before known or dreamed of by those remaining; in July the yellow fever broke out in Galveston, with great mortality, especially amongst the many arriving from the north and west. Edwin Harvey took the fever and died in four hours' time; J. H. Barton survived after a hard struggle, and Mr. Clayton wrestled with the dread disease for some six weeks in Houston. In 1868, J. H. Barton removed to Arkansas and became the private secretary of Gov. Powell Clayton, his brother-in-law; here he married again, and resides in Little Rock.

Mr. Clayton was now the only one of the Pennsylvania colony left, "sitting on the ragged edge between hope and despair;" what was to be done? Go home? Oh, no!

Politics seemed to offer the only practical opening for him at that time, and he entered the field, by working for the "Houston Union," a radical Republican newspaper, and taking a prominent part in the election of E. J. Davis, the first Republican Governor of the state. For his services in that campaign Mr. Clayton was appointed inspector of customs at Galveston, Nov. 1, 1869. Disliking the monotony of the service, he resigned, his labors ceasing on the 31st of the following May; on the 18th of June, 1870, he accepted an appointment as assistant marshal to aid in taking the census, and having completed the work assigned him, he was given a second and similar appointment on August 26th. On February 11th, 1871, he was commissioned a deputy U. S. Marshal for the Eastern District of Texas; recommissioned May 13th, 1873, May 3rd, 1875, and April 29th, 1876, the last time by Wm. J. Phillips, with whom he remained in an official capacity for about eight years, when he resigned and accepted the treasurership of a land company, of which he had for a time been secretary. During the thirteen years he was in the U. S. Marshal's office, he rode over some fifty counties, served more process, and made more arrests than all the other deputies in the office. No doubt a history of his life during this time would contain many interesting incidents.

Mr. Clayton and family were sufferers from the terrible storm, or hurricane, attended by a huge inundation, which visited the city of Galveston, September 8th, 1900, when the property loss was estimated at more than $17,000,000, more than 4,000 residences were destroyed, and several thousand lives were lost; their house collapsed upon them, and the salt water and mud destroyed everything.
